Quote highlights from Shauna:

“You never know who God is going to put in your path and when you’ll have a word of encouragement for that person.”

“Take the gifts you are wired with, take what you have, and let that be a gift to your neighbors.”

“God can do wonders right where we are, simply by opening ourselves up to him in prayer.”

Journal Prompts:

Shauna talks about using your gifts and letting them be a blessing to your neighbors. What hobbies, talents, or special skills do you have? What do you enjoy doing? How can you use that to meet a need in your community?

Discussion

Shauna is realistic and reminds us that investing in the people around us will require a plan. True relationships, thriving communities don’t just happen. What one or two practical steps can you take to prepare yourself for opportunities to Love Where You Live?

Who can you nominate for #LoveWhereYouLiveDay? Take a few minutes and honor someone you know who is making a difference in their community. Submit your nomination here:
